Live Auction

11th May 7.00 - 10.00pm

WELCOME TO THE 21ST PRIOR WESTON SCHOOL & CHILDREN'S CENTRE AUCTION OF PROMISES

Once again we have been overwhelmed by the enthusiasm everyone has put into offering and sourcing promises. Thank you! There are 100 fantastic lots which have been divided into two separate auctions - a LIVE auction and a SILENT auction.

Since the Auction of Promises began 21 years ago, the PTA has funded wonderful new experiences and learning opportunities for our children. School trips have been free including the Christmas performances, and we have supported families with a financial need so that their child can go on residential school journeys.

Happy browsing and successful bidding!!

GENERAL RULES

'Prior Weston PTA' makes no warranty or representation of any kind with respect to any items or services sold. Please inspect where possible.

Many images included in this catalogue are used to capture the spirit of the promise and are not images of the actual item. Please look at the items before you bid.

All items must be paid for in full before the buyer's departure for the evening. Payment can be in cash or, preferably, cheque accompanied by a banker's card. Unfortunately we cannot accept credit or debit cards.

Payment for the live and the silent auctions will be handled in two separate queues on the night. Please start writing out your cheque to 'Prior Weston PTA' as you queue. It helps the time pass.

Services and other intangible items will be delivered through private arrangement between buyer and donor, at their mutual convenience.

All sales are final and there will be no exchange or refund on items. Unless otherwise specified, or mutually agreed between buyer and donor, all auctioned services must be used within three months of the auction date.

HOW TO BID

LIVE AUCTION RULES

It is the bidder's responsibility to ensure that the auctioneer sees their bid. The highest bidder acknowledged by the auctioneer shall be the purchaser. As each lot is sold, the auctioneer will ask the purchaser their bidding number. In the event of any dispute, the auctioneer's decision shall be final. At the fall of the auctioneer's gavel, title to the article passes to the highest bidder who thereupon assumes full risk and responsibility for the article.

SEALED BIDS

If you cannot be present at the live auction, you can leave a sealed bid. Write your name, address, phone number, child's name and class followed by the lot number and brief description, together with the highest bid you are prepared to make. Put this in an envelope clearly marked 'Sealed Bid'. Return this to a PTA member. Each lot with a sealed bid will be indicated as such to all.

SILENT AUCTION RULES

All those wishing to place a bid for a silent auction item will need to obtain their own unique bidding number from a member of the PTA. Bids are anonymous and only the bidding number is used during bidding.

Silent auction promises will be displayed on a display board in the school hall. Bids are placed against each item in sequential order, each person out-bidding the last, until the close of the auction when the highest bid wins. You may place as many bids as you like on any one item provided you bid higher than the previous bidder.

Tintin and secret of literature

Rare signed first hardback edition of 'Tintin and the Secret of Literature', by Tom McCarthy (Granta Books 2006)
Described by the Times as 'a fascinating and sometimes disturbing work of deconstruction', the Telegraph as 'brilliant' and the Economist as 'drivel'; read variously as a literary essay, a parody and a novel-in-disguise, novelist Tom McCarthy's book is built around a simple question: are the Tintin books great literature? Taking his cue from Tintin himself, who tracks down illicit radio signals and decodes puzzles, McCarthy suggests that we too need to 'tune in' and decode if we want to capture what's really going on in Hergé's work.

Image recovery

Do you have a cherished photograph that's seen better days? I can retouch a couple of your photos back to a more presentable condition and supply new digital prints for you. I use photoshop to carefully retouch the photos which can be a painstaking process. A single image can take days to complete, depending on how bad the original is, but the results can be quite dramatic.

Conditions: Offer valid for one year. The process doesn't work quite so well on linen effect, textured papers unfortunately.

Spaghetti Junction: Orange crush

Melissa Price, 2016, 500 x 700mm, framed. Screenprinted in white and silver ink on Mallard Green Kaskad in an edition of 40. Orange Crush Interchange in Los Angeles is notorious for jams and delays, especially when there's a ball game at the nearby Anaheim Stadium. The interchange is believed to have been christened by a local radio presenter, Orange Crush referring to the beverage and also the traffic jams. There are 34 different routes through the junction, linking the I-5, SR22 and SR57 freeways. The junction's shape is constrained by its connection to the strongly gridded ground level street pattern, giving rise to straight sections which contrast nicely with the crazily looped connecting ramps.

Spaghetti Junction: Gravelly Hill Interchange

Screenprinted in white and silver ink on Kingfisher Blue Kaskad in an edition of 40, 2016, 500 x 700mm, framed
The original spaghetti junction in Birmingham opened in 1972. Encompassing 18 routes in total, it was built to connect the M6, A38(M), A38 and A5127 north of the city centre. The resulting tangled form was given the 'spaghetti junction' label by a journalist at the Birmingham Evening News for obvious reasons. The name stuck and nowadays few know its real name – Gravelly Hill Interchange.
